

Stones - The Rippling Effect

Here are a few ideas about how to use stones so they will have a rippling effect and enable people to articulate what's important to them and connect with each other.

While we used the stones as a “get -acquainted”, there are so many possible ways to use the stones ... you could:

- give the stone to someone
- carry the stone with you
- give the stone as a birthday “gift”
- use the stone as your vision for the year
- use the stone to remind people about your organization's focus
- use the stone to highlight an area for improvement
- give the stone as recognition for a great job
- give the stone as a thank you

You can use them in your personal life in all the ways mentioned above, and also for asking forgiveness, telling someone you love them, saying happy anniversary, and so many other ways - brainstorm with your friends, family, colleagues - the uses are limitless!

They are good for all ages...be creative with your uses.

Good luck!
